

How to Disable Browser Popup Blockers

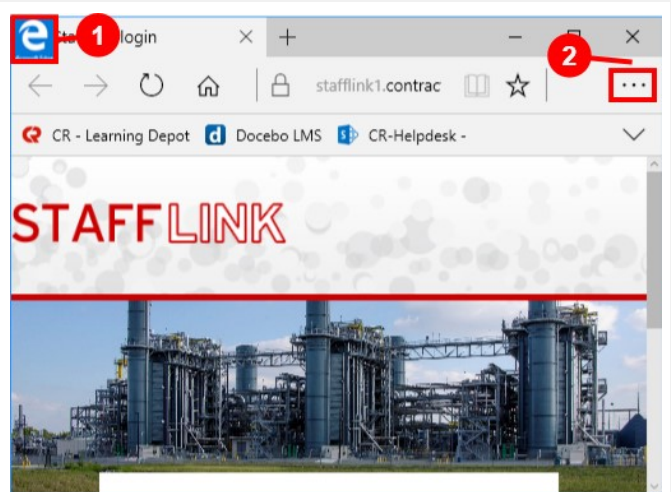

To change the settings in Microsoft Edge, Internet Explorer, Google Chrome and Mozilla Firefox, to allow pop-ups and dialog boxes to open

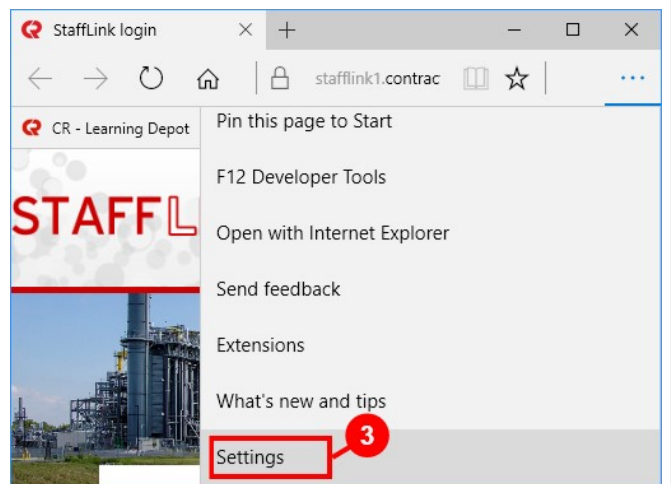

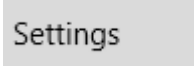

1 Open Microsoft Edge

2 Click the More button to view the menu options

3 Move to the end and Click Settings

4 Scroll down settings to Advanced Settings

Click: View advanced settings

- 5 Slide Block pop-ups to the 'Off' position

Block pop-ups

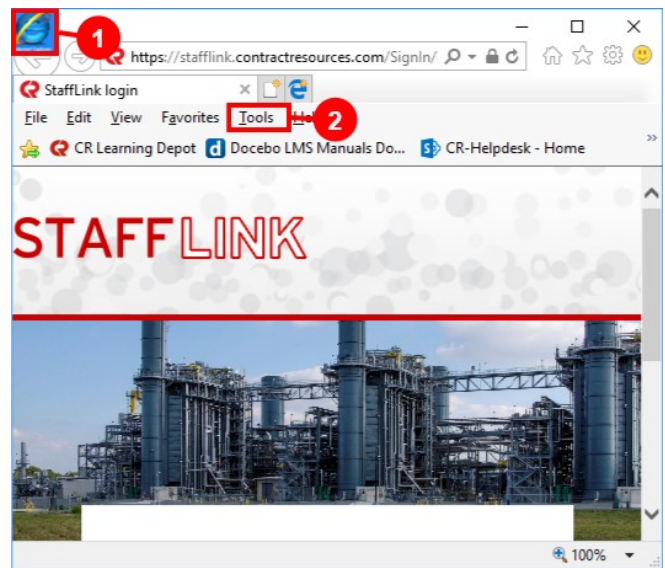

You will now be able to see pop-up windows whenever you encounter them, from within Edge

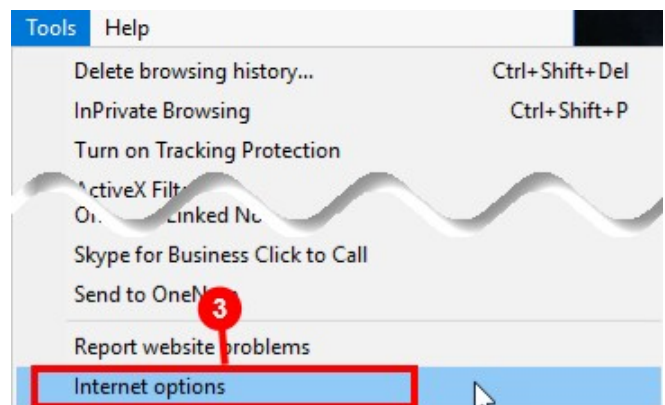

- 1 Open Internet Explorer

- 2 Click Tools menu

- 3 Scroll down and click Internet options

4

Select the Privacy tab

5

Uncheck the Turn on Pop-up Blocker

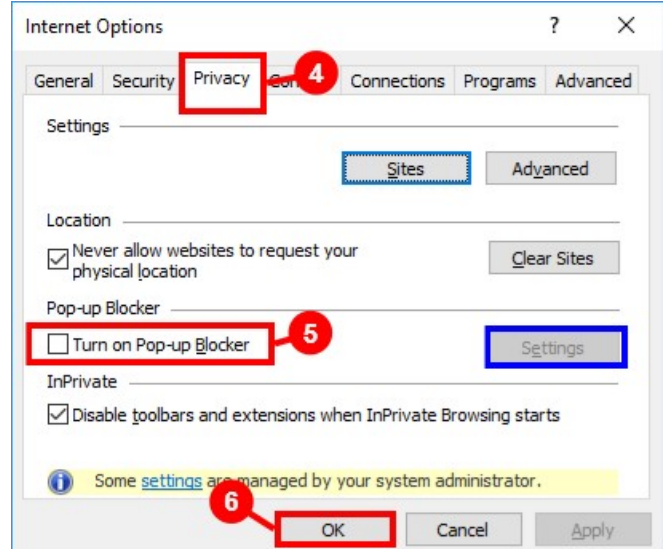

6

Click OK

If you keep the pop-up blocker on, you can allow pop-ups for individual sites instead, as exceptions.

To do this, click Settings next to the checkbox and enter the URL of the site from which you want to see the content.

Then click Add and Close.

1

Open Google Chrome

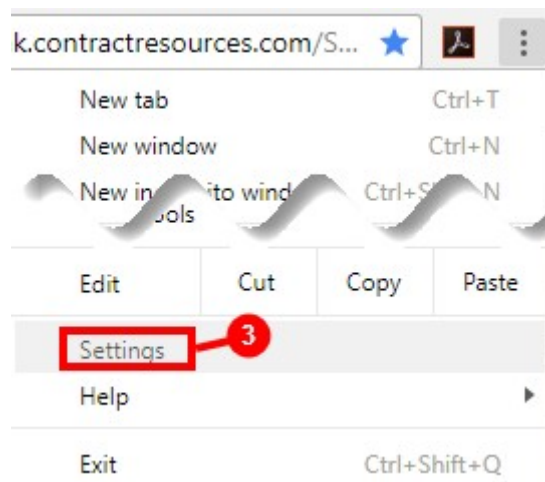

2

Click the More button to view the menu options.

3

Click Settings

- 4 Scroll down to the end and click Advanced

- 5 Scroll down under the 'Privacy and security' section to select Content Settings.

Content settings
Control what information websites can use and what content they you

- 6 Scroll down and select Popups

Popups
Blocked

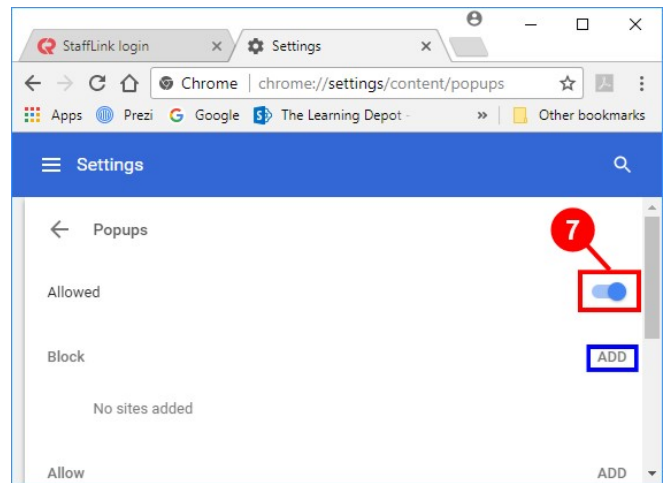

- 7 Move the slider to the 'ON' position.

You will now be able to see pop-up windows whenever you encounter them, from within Chrome

You can block pop-ups from individual sites by clicking Add under the 'Blocked' section of the menu then enter the URL of the site content you want to block.

- 1 Open Firefox

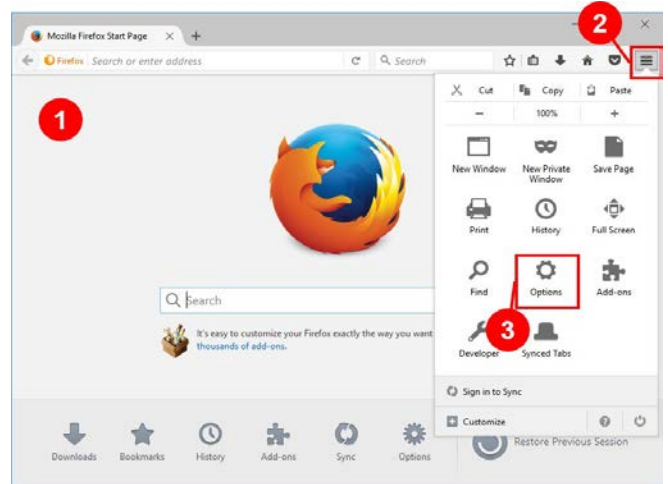

- 2 Select the hamburger button to view the menu options

- 3 Click Options, to view the preferences menu

Options

- 4 Select the Content menu option

- 5 Uncheck the 'Block pop-up windows'.

You will now be able to see pop-up windows whenever you encounter them, from within Firefox

You can block pop-ups from individual sites by clicking 'Exceptions. . 'Entering the URL of the site content you want to allow then click Allow and Save Changes.

